

Summary

1. Meeting the specifications:

- My site meets the requirements with jQuery-UI plugins because if the user clicks on a tab, the tab color changes letting the user know the location on the site, it is visually appealing and friendly interface
- My site meets the requirements with Ajax plugins because there is a JSON file created with the list of events example and on the event tab of my site

2. Summarize the feedback

I updated the site through previous feedback. I had problems with the html errors which are now fixed. That is the only feedback I had received. Everything else was up to par.

3. Paragraph

My website will meet the needs of stakeholders. My website is a simple concept or design for creating and hosting events. As well as participants joining the event. Stakeholders can create a public event, such as an important meeting or a birthday party. People can see the location and time of events and let the stakeholders know if they will be coming.
